I want to build an interface board for a pc to decode APT pictures (NOAA, GOES, Meteor meteor) on a pc . I could I suppose design my own but by then I could have built someone elses.

So I ask you has anyone the in fo on the interface described in QEX sep 88.
Qex appears to be unavailbe in the UK. Or has any a circuit or any useful info.

Please E-mail me as the news reader i have a really user unfriendly.

Thanks a lot

John.

I am caught in a classic battle of ham radio. I'm trying to decide on a radio.
I'm am stuck between a Tentec Scout 555 and a Yaesu FT747GX. Any information that you could provide me about these two radios would be appreciated and vital to clearing up my confusion.
